Hall future in question after roof cave-in

The future of a local landmark is in question after the snow-laden roof caved in on February 20. County of St. Paul building inspector Ken Yettaw said he will have to inspect Stoney Lake Hall a second time after the collapsed roof structure is removed to determine if the building can be repaired.

The hall was built by local volunteers from upright logs in the 1940s and has been used for community functions of all kinds ever since that time. The cave-in was discovered when Jerry Ahern went to turn on heat in the hall for a funeral luncheon.

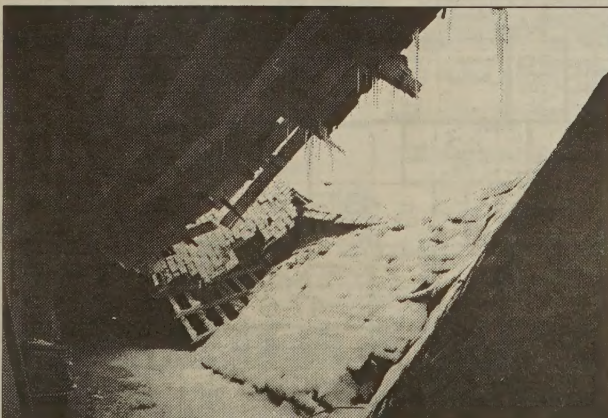

The center of the roof had fallen in to floor level, roof trusses splintered and the tops of the side walls pushed outward.

Ahern said that if the hall cannot be repaired, it may not be possible to rebuild at the present time, due to the fundraising and workload limitations of the small volunteer hall board. The building was not insured against snow load.

The Stoney Lake Snowball Tournament planned for this weekend will go ahead as planned, in spite of the cave-in.

RE THAN SLIGHTLY SWAY-BACKED —The roof of Stoney Lake Hall was a victim of the winter's heavy snowfall.

UNPLANNED SKYLIGHTS and heaps of debris resulted from the roof cave-in at Stoney Lake Hall.

Health, education in the forefront at candidates forum

Five of the six candidates vying to represent the St. Paul - Lac La Biche constituency after the March 11 provincial election were in Heinsburg Friday night to outline their platforms and answer questions from the electorate.

Incumbent MLA and Progressive Conservative candidate Paul Langevin said that in 1993, both the Conservatives and Liberals had run on a fiscal restraint platform, but that as the opposition, the Liberals had voted against changes which had been in their platform. Premier Ralph Klein, on the other hand, "did what he said he would do." The debt is coming down, he said, and "there are real dollars in our budget, that we don't have to borrow, which will be reinvested." Langevin said that $300 million saved on interest will go back into programs such as health, education, transportation and agriculture. However, he said, "these dollars aren't going to buy jobs. We're investing in real projects that need them. Industry will create jobs. The future looks great, with more and more to reinvest."

Independent Louis Real Theriault, a Lac La Biche truck driver and concrete finisher, says he "would like to see society better to live in." He condemned "the extreme sense of hypocrisy" and said democracy is not being served. He is an advocate of "truth, justice and freedom," and wants to introduce ways to reduce the greenhouse effect and the use of poisonous substances on fields. "We are stealing and destroying our kids' heritage, and raping Mother Nature," Theriault says he turned to politics because he was denied his constitutional rights and was "stopped from addressing the public because I told the truth. Our peace, culture and tradition are under corporate attack, turning the boreal forest into ash. I'm here to defend the environment... and help to make a real difference to society."

Liberal Vital Ouellette said that Alberta, with Canada's richest resources, has the lowest per capita spending on health and the third lowest on education in the nation. He feels Klein "puts money before people" and lost money on failed business ventures. "He created chaos in health and failed the educational system and seniors." The Liberals would bring health care back to acceptable standards, support home care, hire a thousand new teachers, fully fund a

From the FCSS desk...

Captured by the magic of drama

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

Did you know that there is a magical force in drama? There seems to be something special in the magical force of drama for both the presenter and the onlooker.

To understand what I am talking about, let me begin with the definition of the word Drama. "Drama," the term is derived from the Greek verb meaning "act" or "do." It can apply to any mimic action, but commonly refers specifically to plays written for stage presentation. This exercise of art satisfies an almost universal human need. The presentations themselves nearly always are associated with some kind of message and nearly always possess a kind of magical force.

I always enjoy attending plays that after I have seen them, I remember them as plays which have made an impression on my mind. One such play was "Fiddler on the Roof," by Joseph Stein. This is a play about an old-fashioned father of a Jewish family in Russia, as he attempts to cope with the changing times brought forcibly home to him by his beautiful daughters. With abandon, they sing "Matchmaker, Matchmaker, Make Me a Match." Tevye, the father, replies with "If I Were a Rich Man." Tears come to the viewer as we hear the beautiful strains of "If I Were a Rich Man," as well as "Sunrise, Sunset." Then we seem to appreciate Tevye's love of his native village when the cast sings "Anatevka."

The gaiety of the dance, the rhythm of the music, the excellence of the acting all fade in significance when Tevye speaks what to me becomes the message of the musical. He gathers his lovely daughters to his side and, in the simplicity of his peasant surroundings, counsels them as they ponder their future. "Remember," cautions Tevye, "in Anatevka, each one of us knows who he is and what God expects us to become." I could relate to this statement, for it describes the family support systems of a small town.

I have given one example of the magical force it had on me from the play "Fiddler on the Roof." There are other plays which could have the same "magical force" feelings. I am sure you could describe these plays.

In our town of Elk Point we are so very fortunate. Did you know that the Elk Point Community Choir and Friends, for the past several years, have been presenting a play each year? To make it more special, they have added a dinner. Thus it is known as a Dinner Theatre production. Do you know the play they are doing this year? I hope you do. The play is Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables." Don't become one of the people who wanted to be there but didn't get their tickets in time. Call Don Conrad for ticket information at 724-3785.

Nutrition Month

"All foods can fit" is the Nutrition Month message this March

Forget "good foods" and "bad foods" — all foods can fit into healthy eating! This realistic approach to eating is the message you'll be hearing during the March Nutrition Month campaign "All Foods Can Fit."

"Healthy eating does not mean eliminating particular foods or food groups," says dietician Pierrette Buklis, director of nutrition communications for the Canadian Sugar Institute. "It does mean making informed food choices and keeping your nutritional goals in mind."

Studies consistently show that when it comes to food and nutrition, consumers are confused by the amount of, and often contradictory, information they hear. While they want to make healthy food choices, they are reluctant to sacrifice taste and pleasure for nutritional value.

The good news is that foods, such as sugar, which add taste and enjoyment to a food or recipe, have a role to play in healthy eating. For instance, sugar, which contains half the calories of fat, is an important source of carbohydrates and energy. International studies indicate Canadians are eating sugar at a level consistent with Health Canada's definition of healthy eating and a recent nationwide tracking study by the Canadian Sugar Institute showed that nearly half the women surveyed felt sugar in moderation should be included in the diet.

Sugar, on its own, fits into the "Other Foods" group of Canada's Food Guide to Healthy Eating. Yet, as a component in other foods, it can be found in all other food groups, in items such as fruits, breads, yogurt, milk beverages and baked beans. Health Canada recommends that we get most of our daily energy from carbohydrates, including sugars.

Some of the best advice on healthy eating is really common sense," says Buklis. "Eat a variety of foods from all food groups, eat moderate portions, maintain a healthy weight and balance your food choices over time."

The dieticians at the Canadian Sugar Institute have the following tips for following a healthy diet:

- * Make changes gradually. Putting an instant stop to any of your favorite foods will likely backfire in the long run.

- * Reduce, don't eliminate certain foods. If you eat too much of one food one day, simply cut back or choose something new the next day.

- * Balance your food choices over time. A healthy diet is based on long term eating habits based on a variety of foods.

- * Start off with small portions. You can always go back for seconds.

- * Remember foods are neither good or bad. Everything in moderation.

- * Sugars add flavor, which can help us enjoy nutritious foods, such as whole grain products, that are important to our health. A little sugar as an ingredient in food makes them more appetizing and satisfying. Try glazed carrots, bran muffins or chocolate milk.

- * Did you know sugar has other functions in food? When baking, remember sugar can absorb and retain water very easily, helping to keep breads and muffins moist and tender. Sugar also prevents growth of bacteria in items such as jams and preserves. Canned fruits retain their bright color better when kept in a sugar solution.

- * The size of portions and the number of times you eat rich foods can be more detrimental to the waistline than what's actually in the food. For people who are trying to lose weight, it is important to remember that each gram of fat supplies nine calories, while each gram of sugar supplies only four.

- A touch of jam or jelly on toast can replace butter or margarine.

- A dash of maple syrup or apple jelly also makes a deli-

Tax Tips

By Norm Gueutal

If you were fortunate enough to win some money in the U.S. last year there may be some more luck coming your way. This would be in respect of the U.S. tax that was probably deducted from all those winnings.

Until 1996, there was usually no tax relief available in such cases. However, the new Canada-U.S. tax treaty has changed some of the rules. As a result, you may be able to obtain a refund of some or all of the tax withheld for 1996 and later years. New Article XXII(3) of the treaty allows non-residents (Canadians) to deduct gambling losses for gambling winnings in the same way as residents. This means that tax is payable only on the net amount, not the gross amount of your winnings. However, to take advantage of this provision, you must be able to prove the amount of your losses. This means you must keep an accurate diary of your losses and winnings, and save all your gambling receipts, tickets and statements.

You may be able to claim losses from keno, slot machines, table games (poker, wheel of fortune, etc.) bingo racing, and lotteries. Since proceeds from blackjack, baccarat, craps, roulette, or Big-5 wheel are not taxable to non-residents, any losses from these games may not be claimed. To substantiate your losses, you must keep a diary which includes the following information: the date and type of wager, the name and address of the gambling establishment, and the names of other persons present with you at the gambling establishment, and the amounts that you won or lost. In addition, you should also keep all supporting documentation, such as tickets, cancelled cheques, credit records, bank withdrawals, and the statement of actual winnings provided to you by the gambling establishment.

Losses can only be deducted to the extent of your wagering gains during the year, and may be claimed on the U.S. 1996 non-resident tax form 1040NR. As a Canadian resident, there is no other way to obtain a legal refund of the taxes withheld. Therefore, if you are planning to head south for some gambling fun, take along a diary and a pouch to save those gambling receipts, whether or not you plan to hit the jackpot. Although you may not want a reminder of your losses, it may save some tax if you win later on.

Energy Minister predicts endless opportunities for Elk Point

Minister of Energy, the Honorable Pat Black, predicted "endless opportunities" for Elk Point district residents when she spoke at a campaign dinner for Progressive Conservative candidate Paul Langevin in Elk Point Thursday evening.

"Elk Point is looking at a very bright future with a lot of promise for your young people. The expectation of development is absolutely unbelievable. The oil industry is here for the long term, and your young people will have choices and options. They can stay here and raise their kids, and there will be new friends and neighbors coming here to stay," Black said. "As the community develops and expansion takes place, a broader future will evolve."

She added that anyone who comes here will be fortunate, because "it's the best place in Canada to live," with its mixture of agricultural background, petroleum development and peaceful surroundings.

Regarding the campaign, Black said things are "moving along very quickly. This campaign is not boring. With one and a half weeks to go, we're going hard, going fast and not taking anything for granted. We're knocking on 600 to 800 doors a day in Calgary."

Black said Langevin "brings a different perspective to the Legislature. We're very fortunate to have Paul. He's truly representative of the area." She predicted that the PCs "will stay the course, pay the debt and free up dollars for health, education and social services."

Elk Point Mayor Ed Buck presented the Energy Minister with a town pin, and in view of the huge role the energy sector is playing in the area, named her Honorary Mayor of the community for the balance of 1997. Black said that Alberta is the tenth largest oil producer in the world, and "there is more oil here than in Saudi Arabia."

Black and Langevin met with three delegations from the community prior to the dinner.

Also honored at the event was former MLA John Drobot, whom Black recalled as the "poet laureate of the Legislature." Langevin presented Drobot with a plaque honoring his contribution to the community as a county councillor and reeve, and then as MLA from 1982 to 1993. "He is a real community man, who has dedicated his life to clubs and organizations. He is recognized in this riding as someone very dedicated. He is honest and fair, a great party supporter and commanded a lot of respect from his fellow MLAs."

Langevin was grateful for the support shown by those in attendance at the dinner. Since he was elected on June 15, 1993, he has found life in the Legislature "very interesting and challenging. I had some very tough decisions to make but was prepared to make them." He has represented a very large constituency which includes 55 communities, six Indian Reserves, three Metis settlements and a White Russian settlement, and which has agriculture, heavy oil, forestry, traplines, two provincial parks and the only commercial fish processing plant in Alberta. "It's been very demanding to serve, but very enjoyable. There's never been a dull moment, and the experience I have gained will allow me to serve you better in the future."

The evening also featured vocal entertainment by talented local singer Pam Jaybush. Glenn Harms was Master of Ceremonies.

A REAL COMMUNITY MAN -- Former MLA John Drobot was presented with a plaque honoring his dedication, by current MLA Paul Langevin.

kindergarten program and help for special needs students, and offer support for seniors in the area of prescription drugs, all within a balanced budget. Ouellette "refused to stand on the sidelines when people have suffered because of the health cuts. I am worried about children and seniors. It is time for a government that can help all Albertans."

Peter Tychkowsky represents the Social Credit party which governed Alberta for 36 years prior to the 1971 defeat of Harry Strom, an era which brought Albertans the minimum wage act and medicare, technical schools in Calgary and Edmonton, and the Alberta Children's Hospital. Today's Social Credit plans to avoid two-tier medical system, encourage preventative medicine, empower parents to be involved in education and establish the highest level of educational system in the world. The Socreds want a "freer, market driven system for agriculture," elimination of health care premiums, prescriptions paid for by medicare, and job training programs for youth. Tychkowsky said "we are all being penalized by cuts to health and education," and said that one way to free up the necessary funds is to "get rid of funding to big corporations."

The final candidate to speak was St. Paul veterinarian Dr. Don Ronaghan, who represents the Forum Party, which was established in 1995. He is an advocate of "proportional representation," in which a party would hold a number of seats in the legislature corresponding to the proportion of the popular vote they had received across the province. He noted that 40% of Albertans "didn't bother to vote" in 1993, and that "a minority, with 43% of the popular vote, are running roughshod over the rest of us." Ronaghan said the purpose of government is "to provide needed public services — health care for all, education for all, help for seniors, widows, single parents. These are not optional in a civilized society." He plans to continue to work for proportional representation "so everyone's votes count."

A sixth candidate, New Democrat Grace Johnston, was not able to attend the forum.

Questions from the floor were mostly concentrated on education and health care, although the conservation of natural resources, the Heritage Trust Fund, gun laws, privatization and the minimum wage all brought comments from both candidates and electors.

*On February 20th,
Alberta Wheat Pool and Manitoba Pool Elevators announced a cash offer to purchase any and all outstanding limited voting common shares of United Grain Growers Limited for $13.75 per share.*

WHY?

The decision to purchase United Grain Growers was made for two basic reasons:

- 1. To retain Canadian ownership in the Western Canadian grain industry; and*
- 2. To build a stronger, cooperative alternative with the resources to compete in an industry that is becoming increasingly competitive, more global and less regulated.*

It is widely recognized that global conglomerates have been indicating a desire to strengthen their position in the Canadian grain industry. The decision of AWP and MPE to purchase UGG not only retains Canadian ownership, it will:

- improve economic efficiencies
- meet the desire of many Western Canadian farmers wanting a modern, efficient cooperative alternative
- retain Canadian ownership in the Western Canadian grain industry by Western Canadian farmers
- produce a cooperative venture that is capable of competing globally
- expand the geographic supply base for grain, special crops, seed and oilseeds thereby ensuring customer satisfaction during periods of climatic variability
- maximize use and efficiencies of existing Vancouver and Thunder Bay terminals
- enhance profitability of the Alberta and Manitoba Pools and increase patronage dividends to member owners.

In short, the purchase of UGG by the Alberta and Manitoba Pools will result in stronger Canadian farmer-owned cooperatives with significant influence in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

How will the new entity function? Alberta Pool and Manitoba Pool Elevators will continue to operate as cooperatives in their respective provinces and a new, joint-venture cooperative will be established to serve Saskatchewan farm members.

How Can You Participate?

If you are a UGG shareholder, you will be receiving in the mail an Offer-To-Purchase and a Take-Over Bid Circular which describes the offer. You may accept this Offer simply by completing and signing the Letter of Transmittal and mailing or delivering it, together with your UGG share certificate, no later than 11:59 p.m. (Calgary time) on Thursday, March 27, 1997, to:

- the nearest Alberta Pool elevator; or
- one of the offices of Montreal Trust listed on the last page of the Letter of Transmittal.

If you cannot locate your UGG share certificate, complete and sign the Notice of Guaranteed Delivery.

If your name does not appear on the face of the share certificate, you should contact your broker, investment dealer, bank, trust company or other nominee for help in depositing your shares.

If you have any questions, please contact our toll free number, 1-888-580-6844.

The addition of United Grain Growers is good news for farmers, members of Alberta Pool and Manitoba Pool Elevators, and all Canadians. We invite UGG shareholders to accept our offer and become part of an exciting, new cooperative venture.

What's new in Elk Point? (South Dakota, that is)

News notes from the Leader-Courier

South Dakota education statistics show that half of their students attend schools with enrollments of 100 or fewer students. Elk Point's three schools, however, are larger than this, with 250 students in grades K to 4 at Elk Point Elementary, 201 students in grades 5 to 8 at Elk Point Middle School and 213 students in grades 9 through 12 at Elk Point High School. The schools have 9.5, 10.3 and 13.0 teachers respectively, and their high school dropout rate sits at 1.9%. Yearly expenditures are $3702 US per pupil, or approximately $5065 Canadian.

Crime statistics released by the Elk Point Police Department show a one percent decrease in calls, but an increase in both arrests and warnings. The largest number of arrests were for driver's licence violations, alcohol and drug related offences and speeding. Twenty four motorists were arrested for driving while intoxicated. Eight arrests were made on offences pertaining to dogs.

Area residents were ready to strangle any groundhog they saw as bad weather continued to plague Elk Point residents, with the third blizzard of the year dumping up to 16 inches of snow on top of freezing rain in early February. (It was partly cloudy on Groundhog Day, so the Leader-Courier said any shadow sightings depended on when local groundhogs awoke.

The Elk Point Commercial Club was concerned that a satellite health clinic proposed to be brought in by the Vermilion Dakota Hospital would harm their own community health clinic, but were told that the second clinic would enhance services by giving patients a choice of clinics without leaving Elk Point.

A $1000 donation raised from a pre-Christmas tour of homes sponsored by the Commercial Club was donated to Elk Point Community Library for the purchase of books and equipment.

United Parish Church minister Rev. James Claggett won the National Junior Chamber of Commerce public speaking competition.

Miss South Dakota visited Elk Point Grade 5 students and campaigned against smoking, drinking and drug abuse.

Novice Hurricane tournament big success

By Dave Cousins

Elk Point Novice Hurricanes

The Novice hockey tournament on the weekend was a big success even though an unfortunate incident caused one of the teams to have to decline the invitation.

The two-day, seven-team tournament ended on Sunday afternoon with Goodfish winning a very close game against Cold Lake with a one goal lead to take the "A" side event, giving Cold Lake second place.

In the "B" event, it went to a second-round shootout before Lloydminster edged ahead of Kitscoty for their victory.

The "C" event had our own Elk Point team up against Bonnyville, with the Elk Point team scoring the winning goal with only approximately 16 seconds left in the game.

Our boys did very well with all of the stiff competition that was invited to this tournament. The boys had a great time.

A special thanks to businesses that donated to the raffle table.

Our boys would like to thank the following businesses: Gator Enterprises Ltd., 4C's Holdings, J. Oryshchuk Trucking, Elan Energy, UFA Petroleum, Lakeland Realty, Woody's Trophy and Gifts, Footprints, Tags, B & R Eckels, RCMP, Hilltop Motor Inn, Co-Op Store, Ace Pizza, Wilter Auto and Industrial Supply, 1st Class Office Services, Hahn Welding, Treasury Branch, Canadian Salt Company Ltd., Double A Sports, Toronto Dominion Bank, Stedmans, Elk Point Insurance and Realty, Empress Family Restaurant, Pan Canadian Petroleum, Coca-Cola Bottling, Signatures Collision and Frame, Home Town Grocers, Norcen Energy, Regency Hotel, Pineridge Oilfield Services, Shamrock Valley Enterprises, Northbound 41, and any others that we may have missed.

Also, thanks to the parents who spent a lot of time getting donations, putting together the raffle table and doing all the hard work and effort that was put into making it a smooth running weekend. This means a lot to them.

I would like to thank the boys on the team for giving Elk Point some great "breath holding" hockey and making me proud to be a part of it.

"B" WINNERS:
Lloydminster Blazers

"C" WINNERS:
Elk Point Hurricanes

"A" SIDE CHAMPIONS were the Goodfish Novices (above), who defeated Cold Lake (below) in a close final.

Storm hosting Midget Girls Provincials this coming weekend

By Doug Bassett
Elk Point Minor Hockey

With hard work, one man's dream has come true. Brian Tucker has wanted an all-girls hockey team for the past few years. His idea was put together and the Elk Point Midget Storm was founded.

In their first season, the girls won five games, coming close in many others. Not only does he have a team, but in their first year of existence they are hosting the Midget Girls Provincials this coming weekend, starting at 3:00 p.m. Friday, March 7.

To play in the all-female league, the Storm had to be willing to travel great distances this past winter, and many of the teams coming here for Provincials were in their league. Teams that are coming include last year's Provincial champs from Dewberry, along with St. Albert, Lethbridge, Wainwright, Irma, Calgary and Edmonton. Female hockey is growing and in the future, travel should not be such a big factor.

Here's a rundown of the team:

Brian Tucker, the main man and manager who found players from all over and helped transport them.

Donna Zapesocki, the coach who has devoted her time even though she doesn't have a girl on the team, and who recently broke her ankle playing hockey.

Team captain Kandice Bjornstad from Elk Point, who leads the team in points and is very competitive.

From Elizabeth Settlement — Gwen Lepine, who started the season on defence but is not the second leading forward; her sister Amanda Lepine, the youngest player but one who is very aggressive; Ginny Collins, a forward who has made great improvement this year; and Chandelle Desjarlais, stay-at-home defencewoman.

From Whitney Lake, Megan Tucker, the most experienced player, who spent the last five years on boys' teams, plays well on forward, but is steadiest on defence.

Brooke Cory from Grand Centre, who also plays boys' hockey, is tough on defence and carries the puck end to end.

Kendra Stasyk from St. Paul is one of the most improved defence players on the team.

Sheena Flamond from Fishing Lake, who plays with the peewee boys, is very aggressive and can score goals.

Tanis Cardinal from Goodfish is a good skater who is a rushing defencewoman.

From Elk Point — Janice Derewynka, excellent at shadowing other teams' players... Charise Kinneberg, one of the best play makers on the team... Nicole Sommerville, very quiet but loves the game... Jena Bassett, a great skater who continues to figure skate and is the best forechecker.

Three of the players play goal or skate out: Alicia Nielsen from Elk Point, Angela Hatfield from Goodfish and Penny Quinney from Frog Lake, who also plays with the Bantam boys team.

Come on out this weekend and support the girls in their first Provincial tournament!

"Now you know the rest of the story"

Those of you reading this article are about to have your curiosities answered.

I am writing this so I will not have to repeat myself to the many people who have asked why I will not be employed at Gresco Ind. Ltd. of Elk Point as of February 28, 1997.

In July, 1995 my services were sought by Gresco Ind. Ltd. of Edmonton. At this time, Gresco had no presence in Elk Point even though they were supplying much equipment in the local Elk Point oilfield.

Gresco and myself had three objectives at the time:

- 1) Locate and commission a shop to do business in. This was my first challenge as we moved into the old Elk Point Oilfield Services shop, which needed extensive cleaning. I met this challenge by November 15, 1995, when we had painted the shop both inside and out, built new office space, and tooled up the shop.
- 2) We needed to hire and train an individual whom we could trust to be self-motivated, and responsible for maintenance operations at the shop. This was achieved in October 1996 with the hiring of Wade Krider.
- 3) My third challenge was to become part of the sales team and seek out new clientele. This challenge was answered in February 1996 when Koch Exploration began purchasing equipment from myself at Gresco Ind. I was then promoted to Regional Sales Manager.

In the past two months, Gresco's marketing techniques have changed, in that Dosco Supply will be doing all marketing for Gresco, as they have 21 stores in both Alberta and Saskatchewan. Gresco will be responsible for manufacturing and servicing of their equipment.

I personally am not interested in the maintenance or manufacturing side of the business. As I reflect, I achieved what I set out to do in a period of 17 months. In those 17 months I learned much about the service side of the oil business and have made many new friends and contacts.

I am presently taking some time off, as I have had only two weeks holidays in the past two years. I will be entertaining new challenges in the near future, and wish Wade and Gresco Ind. all the best in the future.

"Now you know the rest of the story."

Elk Point Saddle Slickers compete in largest annual speak-off

The largest-ever Public Speaking Competition for Elk Point Saddle Slickers 4-H Light Horse Club was held at F. G. Miller High School on Sunday, March 2. A total of 26 participants offered prepared and impromptu speeches on a wide variety of interesting topics, and gave the five judges a difficult time to decide the winners.

The results were so close that one tie and two honorable mentions were necessary.

In the Senior division, Jaylene Purdy's thoughtful discourse on her exchange visit to post-Referendum Quebec placed first, with Jamie Schnurer, who spoke on ways to cope with being "Scared Stiff" and Joanne Davies, reporting on "My Trip to California," tied for second place among eight speakers.

In the ten-member Junior competition, Danielle Schnurer placed first with a look at "Those Embarrassing Moments." Joan Wheat gave her promised continuation of last year's speech in "Fall Drive," and Alyssa Fry earned an Honorable Mention for her account of a "Bad News Holiday."

The Pee Wees featured several show-and-tell sessions rather than impromptu, along with prepared speeches. Alyssa Osinchuk spoke "About the Farm" to win the section, with Chelsea Schnurer, also telling about life "On My Farm" placing second. Jill Wheat was very close behind for an Honorable Mention, speaking about "4-H."

A special highlight of the afternoon was Misty Peterson, who gave an encore of her very entertaining 1995 speech about getting ready for the 4-H show.

Ruth and Jaylene Purdy shared the MC duties for the afternoon, while Tammy Dikeman and Marguerite Miller judged senior speakers, Brenda Bintz and Laverne Wilson judged the juniors, and Joyce Larson judged the Pee Wees.

Thunder ends season on winning note

By Doug Bassett
Elk Point Minor Hockey

The Thunder finished their regular season on a winning note when they travelled to Lloydminster to meet the Blazers on Sunday afternoon.

Big #9, Loren Kozicky opened the scoring with his first of two goals on the power play. Lloydminster tied the game in the second period on a penalty shot making it 2-2 after 40 minutes. In the third, talented Brad Pankiw gave the Thunder the lead once more, going coast to coast scoring a beauty, his second of the game. With the game tied at 4-4 with 1:32 left on the clock, Jordan Bassett scored the winner when he was set up in front by Brad Pankiw. Brad, who was going to miss the game because of the flu, had a four point night. Not too bad for a guy who was supposed to be sick!

Considering all the games they played short handed this season, the Thunder did not do too badly, finishing in fifth spot in tier one of a 14-team Northeast League.

This week the Thunder travelled to Mannville to play in the league tournament final.

Storm 5-4 over Castor

In other hockey news, with two goals each by Kandice Bjornstad and Sheena Flamond and a single by Megan Tucker, the Storm beat Castor 5-4 on Sunday afternoon.

Atom Jr. Elks win Zone

Elk Point Atom Jr. Elks defeated Kitscoty 8-5 and 10-9 on the weekend of February 22 and 23 to win the Zone championship and the right to go on to Atom Provincials, March 14 to 16 in Kitscoty.

Coach Ray Danyluk said the Jr. Elks "are not just going to participate, we're going to win." The Jr. Elks would like to have lots of local fans on hand to cheer them on, so watch next week's issue for game times.

Second annual bull sale goes Thursday

Top quality beef herd sires will once again be on offer in Elk Point, as Spring Creek Red Angus and Fontaine "Carel" Farms host their second annual Bull Sale at the Elk Point Fairgrounds Arena this Thursday, starting at 2:00 p.m.

Bear Trap Cattle Co. will be a guest consignor to the sale.

Twelve Simmental bulls, 34 Red Angus bulls and three hybrid bulls will be included in the sale. They are available for viewing on March 5 and 6, prior to sale time, at the arena. All bulls are semen tested.

Auctioneer will be Steve Doran, while Bruce McFadyen and Marc Jubinville will serve as ringmen.

"Bounce"

It is with great sadness that the family announces the peaceful passing of "Bounce" on March 1, 1997 in Elk Point at the home of his son, Michael. He will be lovingly remembered by Rita, his beloved wife of 56 years; cherished father of Roberta (Jack) Carthy, Sandra (George) DeBeer, Margaret (Darryll) Spates, Susan (Rob) Meadows, and Michael (Nadine); adored by his 15 grandchildren and 4 great-grandchildren. "Bounce" will be greatly missed by his "Honorary children", Ken and Stella Thiessen, by brother Cecil Weir and his wife Audrey, by sister Roberta Reid and her husband Dave, and his many nieces and nephews. Born in Dauphin, Manitoba in 1912, "Bounce" began a colorful aviation career in 1932 when he learned to fly. He joined the Air Force in 1939, saw active duty, flew transport and ferry and was commanding officer of the Force's para-rescue school before he retired in 1957. One of the highlights of "Bounce's" career was piloting H.R.H. Prince Philip to Eagle River, Labrador to fish in 1954. After a few years of private business, he returned to flying with Mid-West Aviation and Lambair. "Bounce" was Airport Manager at Thompson, Manitoba for many years and after retiring from the Airport joined Calmair for a short time. A wonderful man who was loved and respected by all who knew him.

Prayer Service will be held Tuesday, March 4 at 7:30 p.m. at Yewchin's Funeral Chapel, St. Paul. Mass of Christian Burial will be held Wednesday, March 5 at 2:30 p.m. at St. Michael Roman Catholic Church, Elk Point. Reverend Father A.
